FATAL WRECK.

Wm. R. Spaulding Killed in Collision.

Two N. & W. Freight Trains Come Together at Prichard W. Va.

As the result of a head-on collision between a west bound and an east-bound freight train on the N. & W. near Prichard early last Tuesday morning Fireman Spaulding, of Wheelersburg, O., is dead and brakeman Sam Kelley, of Dunlow, and Engineer Charles Ingalls, are badly injured. One of Kelley's feet was cut off and Ingalls is cut and bruised very seriously. Kelley was riding on the engine when the accident occurred and was caught in the wreck. Spaulding's father lives at Webb, east of Fort Gay. His wife is the N. & W. operator at Wheelersburg. Several trainmen saved themselves by jumping, but the fireman was buried under the engine and it was hours before his body could be taken from the ruins.

Of the real cause of this bad wreck but little is known. It is said that the engineer of the west bound train lost control of his engine. He had orders to take siding at Prichard, opposite Buchanan, on the C. and O., but failed to stop as ordered. He had proceeded but a short distance when the east bound train came along at a high rate of speed and the catastrophe ensued.

A large number of cars were ruined and it was several hours before the track was cleared for traffic.

No Tr ops.

No troops will be sent to Carter, Elliott, or Grayson counties by Gov. Willson to protect collectors while they endeavor to gather the railroad taxes, which had been adjudged legal obligations of these counties by the Federal Courts.

What the Governor believes will be ripened to a complete understanding and amicable arrangement was reached at the lengthy conference held in the mansion. The Sheriff and County Attorney of Carter county agreed to do what their duty requires in the matter, and Gov. Willson is satisfied. He will later issue a complete statement setting forth the result of the conference.

Arbor Day.

This is Arbor Day. Read these lines from Whittier, and set: Five fools their gold and knaves their power;

Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall; Who sows a field, or trains a plow, Or plants a tree, is more than all.

Important Martin Co. Decision.

Judge Hunt of Cincinnati has decided that 15,445 acres of land, embracing almost the entire county of Martin in Kentucky, and containing mines, minerals and the town of Warfield, rightfully belonged to C. E. Breigel and his mother, Catherine M. Breigel. The title to the property was vested in their names.

In 1837 the land was sold by order of the court to Louis Burger, but the plaintiffs declared Burger had only contributed part of the purchase price, and an agreement was made, whereby Burger was to act as trustee. It was on this agreement that the decision was based.

The largest part of this immense property at one time belonged to Col. James A. Barrett, deceased. He tried in vain to hold his valuable lands, and now none of his name own, as far as known, an acre of the big domain. The money spent in litigation pending the adjustment of the many claims to the estate is a fortune in itself.

There is no finer coal on earth than the Warfield coal, and its resources are just beginning to be developed. With the final adjudication of the contending interests it is reasonable to presume that the land will be divided into smaller boundaries or that the almost limitless mineral wealth will be developed as a whole.

Fred Vinson Still Leading.

Recently we mentioned the excellent record being made by Fred M. Vinson, of this place, at Central University, Danville, Ky. Another examination was held last week and Fred made the highest general average of any student in the University. His average was 98 per cent. His lowest grade on any branch was 96 per cent. Fred is a graduate of the Kentucky Normal College of Louisa, which accounts largely for his thoroughness.

MARRIAGE

Of Dr. J. Allen Prichard and Miss Laura Compton.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Compton in Ashland was the scene of a most beautiful home-wedding last Wednesday at high noon when his sister, Miss Laura K. Compton, of Buchanan, became the wife of Dr. J. Allen Prichard, of Mavity.

The bride is an accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Compton, of Buchanan, and is well and favorably known by a host of people in Louisa. As will be remembered she was telegraph operator here for some time and her genial disposition won for her many friends. The groom is a prosperous physician and is one of Boyd county's wealthiest citizens.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. F. Ball, pastor of the M. E. Church, of Buchanan, no one being present but a few of the immediate relatives. The bride was handsomely attired in a dark blue traveling suit. The ceremony being over and an elegant dinner having been served, they were driven to the C. & O. depot where they boarded No. 3 for a tour through the West visiting relatives in Nebraska en route. After a few weeks they will be at home to their friends at Mavity, where the Dr. has his home already furnished awaiting its mistress. May the richest blessings of life surround them is the wish of their many friends.

Broke Her Arm.

Miss Julia Snyder sustained a very serious and painful injury on Monday last. She is a pupil of the K. N. C. and while going from one building to another on the day mentioned she fell and broke her left arm between the elbow and the shoulder. Dr. T. D. Burgess was called and set the fractured bone.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. C. C. Sullivan Passed Away at Ashland Tuesday Night.

BURIED AT LOUISA YESTERDAY.

Mrs. Charley Clifford Sullivan was born near Fort Gay, W. Va., on December 20, 1831. She died in Ashland, Ky., March 30, 1909. She was the daughter of Frederick and Pamela Moore. When very young she became the wife of Rev. Christian Sullivan, a man prominent in Methodism. Mr. Sullivan died in 1864. Of this union there are four living children.

These are Mrs. Jas. Shannon, Henry and William Sullivan, of Louisa, and a sister Mrs. Rebecca Gallup, of Catlettsburg, and a brother, F. R. Moore, of this county, are living. Many grandchildren, a great grandchild and numerous nephews and nieces are also living.

Notwithstanding her advanced age Mrs. Sullivan maintained good health, barring some of the infirmities of those who are advanced in years. During the recent winter she suffered much with rheumatism, but no great alarm was felt until last Monday. Her condition then grew serious and her children here were then summoned. They left on the first train for Ashland Tuesday morning but arrived too late to see their honored mother alive. On Wednesday the body of Mrs. Sullivan was brought to this city and carried to the residence of her son Henry. At 10:30 a. m. Thursday it was taken to the M. E. Church South where the solemn funeral was held.

Many years ago it was said by Mrs. Sullivan that she wanted the Rev. John T. Johnson to preach her funeral, and if he were dead she wanted it preached by Dr. T. S. Wade. Mr. Johnson has long since gone to the reward of the righteous, and so it became the sad duty of Dr. Wade to comply with the wish of his dead friend. He came, and over the cold form of her whose spirit had left the mute clay and gone to Him who gave it he pronounced a fitting eulogy.

Before the removal of the body to the church many friends of the deceased visited the house where it lay amid the wealth of flowers, tokens of regard and affection from those who knew and loved her who had gone.

At the conclusion of the service the body was taken to Pine Hill cemetery, and there in the midst of those who were near and dear to her, bone of her bone and flesh of her flesh, the mortal remains of Mrs. Sullivan will rest.

With the passing of Mrs. Sullivan a notable character has left the scenes of life. She was in many respects a remarkable woman. From her father and mother she inherited a mind of great strength and a brain of great power. She received a fine education, and she supplemented this with a course of reading and study which ended only with her life. She was by nature a woman of great refinement, and this, with her rare culture, genial manner and attractive personality made her a most delightful companion. She was a woman of noble impulses, affectionate, and charitable. Her love enriched its objects, and her friendship was sought after and prized by its recipients. And with all these splendid attributes Mrs. Sullivan was a devoted Christian. She lived her life as became one of her high estate, cheerfully, happily, and without the slightest taint of pharisaism, and that she has reaped the reward of her right living there is, there can be, not the slightest doubt. She had nearly reached by "reason of strength," the biblical four score, but the strong mind, the fine intellect, were never for a moment dulled or clouded, and death for her was but a transition. The ship which bore her along the stormy sea of time has "crossed the bar" and rests in the haven of eternal peace.

Owing to a derailment of a freight car on the O. & B. S. at Chestnut, just south of Richardson, Thursday evening, passenger train No. 38 was delayed several hours, not reaching Pikeville until 3:30 o'clock next morning.

Local Option Fight in Boyd.

The liquor fight in Catlettsburg and Ashland is being hotly contested. The vote will be taken next Monday.

In Catlettsburg the fight is extremely fierce. There are some very unusual and absurd features in the situation. On the side of the "wets" are a number of church members, several temperance (?) business men, and, worst of all, a few women.

Their excuse is that this is a fight over the location of the county seat. They say they did not want to vote on the liquor question until after the county seat matter is settled and they are retaliating by voting for the sale of intoxicants.

In so doing they are really voting to move the court house to Ashland, especially if Ashland should go dry, as it seems very likely to do. Under this condition Catlettsburg would be made such a disreputable place by the drunkards of Ashland, Ironton and elsewhere, that the country people would vote to move the county seat to Ashland.

The Fly.

Speaking of sources of typhoid infection the Courier-Journal contributes the following. It's not a complimentary notice, but no one can deny its truthfulness:

And the fly—the common house fly. The Government investigator considers the name too tame. He urges the people to adopt as a substitute the style "typhoid fly" as more appropriate to the criminal character of the insect as the main disseminator of typhoid fever. Dr. Howard pays the fly no compliments. The insect is bred on filth, it feeds on filth, it carries from 550 to 6,000,000 bacilli around and deposits them in butter, milk or other food which the human takes into his stomach. If there is any pest which should be exterminated with all the aggressiveness the race can command it is the fly. As for the economic loss caused by the fly's habits, the author volunteers no figures. He allows the reader to draw his conclusions.

Shannon Branch.

Death has again visited our community and taken from us Mrs. Vicky Moore, the beloved wife of Andy Moore. She was 48 years of age and a good Christian woman, a kind wife and mother. She will be greatly missed, for all loved her. Besides her husband and four sons she leaves four sisters and five brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. The bereaved have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

W. T. Cartmel and wife visited Harvey Shannon Sunday. James Miller and Bill Cox passed here Sunday en route to John Adkin's.

Mrs. H. J. Shannon and Mrs. Annie Hardin visited Mrs. Nora Shannon Sunday.

John Shannon is on the sick list. Mrs. May Olive and Onolda Shannon made a trip to Torchlight Friday.

Granville Thompson passed through here and reports Miss Gypsie fast improving.

Misses Emma and Dellia Shannon attended church on Lick creek Sunday.

Dr. Banfield in New York.

Dr. A. P. Banfield, of Catlettsburg, will leave on April 6th for New York, where he will spend a few weeks attending medical lectures.

Delay in Gas Service.

The use of the new college building has been delayed a month already by the failure of the gas company to install a meter. Application was made two months ago for the meter. The gas company claims the delay is the fault of the factory that furnishes the equipment. It is certainly a very unsatisfactory way of serving the public.

Garred Hughes is very ill at his home near Louisa.

PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Louisa McClure Died Here April 1st and Will be Buried Today.

Mrs. Louisa McClure died at her home in Louisa at 5:30 a. m., Thursday, April 1st. The funeral was held at the M. E. Church at 4 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hanford, and the body will be taken to the old McClure place between Torchlight and Chapman Friday morning. Interment will be made in the graveyard, where the husband and only daughter of Mrs. McClure are buried.

Mrs. McClure had been in poor health for quite a while. For several days it was apparent to the family and relatives that the end was near. Disease of various forms had secured such a hold upon her frail body that there could be but one result. Ever since the illness and death of her son Stephen a few weeks ago she had been in a very bad condition.

Mrs. McClure was born March 3, 1841, and was therefore 68 years of age. Her maiden name was Booth. She was married to Wm. McClure in 1864, and he died in 1889. Four sons survive. They are J. B., of Kentucky Normal College, Morris, of Central City, Jeff of Williamson and Arnoldas of Yuma, Arizona. Two sisters of Mrs. McClure are here—Mrs. Emily Chapman, of Central City, and Mrs. John Chapman, this county. A brother, Hurston Booth, of West Virginia was with her a few days previous to her death. Many relatives attended the funeral.

Mrs. McClure was a woman of fine character, and was a devout Christian from early womanhood to the hour of her death. She brought up her family right and under many difficulties and the sons lived to honor her for the sacrifices she had made in their behalf. She will be greatly missed by them and also by her neighbors and friends. Her deeds of kindness to those with whom she came in contact were many and will long be remembered.

WEDDED.

Oscar Graham and Miss Ida Crum Hewlett Married at Louisa.

A very pretty wedding occurred in this city on Tuesday last. Ida, the bright and attractive daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Hulett, was married to Oscar Graham, a popular and worthy citizen of this county. The bride looked very pretty in her marriage gown of white, and in her traveling dress of green she made an equally as charming a picture. Only the more intimate friends of the fair young bride were present at the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. G. C. Hutchinson, of the M. E. Church, South. Shortly after the wedding the good looking young couple left for a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will go to the home of the groom near Prosperity, and there commence life as one.

The groom is a son of Larkin Graham, one of our best citizens, and is a well educated worthy, young man. He was formerly a pupil of the K. N. C.

The NEWS hopes that they may not only live "near Prosperity," but that prosperity and happiness may always attend them.

Lost His Hand.

Wayne Scaf, aged about 20 years, of Buffalo creek, Pike county, is doomed to go through the world single handed, as a result of an accident which befell him last Friday. He was out hunting, and being about to fall from some reason, he tried to throw his shotgun from him. As he attempted to do this it was discharged and the whole load went through his left hand. His father and uncle brought him to Riverview hospital, this city, the next day, and late that evening the injured member was amputated near the wrist by Drs. York and Bromley.

School Buildings and Grounds.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. G. Crabbe has issued his monthly bulletin from the Kentucky Department of Education, being No. 1 of the new series. Prof. Crabbe has made application for entry for this publication as second-class mail matter at the post-office, and intends to make this the official organ of the department to carry the news of Kentucky's educational awakening to those who are interested. This month's bulletin deals almost exclusively with "School Grounds and school buildings," and is enriched with a multitude of handsome cuts and drawings illustrating modern methods of heating, lighting and arranging school rooms and for beautifying the grounds. Twenty thousand of these bulletins are being sent out.

Old Hickory.

A large body of civil engineers has recently gone to Martin county, this State and the Eastern part of Wayne county, West Virginia. The parties were in three distinct sections and carried complete tenting outfits. These engineers will resurvey the coal lands of that locality. One party will work in Martin county, surveying and locating the vast areas of mineral and other wealth in that region. Another will work along Jennie's Creek and Stonecoal creek in Wayne, while a third will be assigned to the Marrowbone section of Mingo county. The work will occupy several months. Many thousand acres of undeveloped mineral lands lie in that vicinity and various interests have holdings. The object of the present surveys is to make well defined lines between the properties of the various land owners and leaseholders so that when transfers are made and developments begin, there will be no confusion.

The NEWS could not believe that in all Wilbur and vicinity there could be a "Gilt Without a Sweetheart," but a lassie from that locality so signs herself and forgot to tell us what other cognomen belongs to her. Therefore, so, and likewise hence and consequently, her letter does not appear in this paper.

Representative Langley, of Kentucky introduced in the House the measure prepared by the Anti-Saloon League of America, which will be called the Anti-Saloon League bill.

The bill proposes to prohibit the shipment of liquor from a point outside of a State if such shipment would be unlawful from another point within the State. In other words it seeks to prohibit the shipment of liquor from dry States from wet States.

As the bill does not seek to delegate to the States the control over such shipments, which was a feature of the Littlefield bill, it is thought by its advocates that the charge of unconstitutionality cannot be sustained against it.

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—Milton Johnson, who for many years has been employed as caretaker of the depot and grounds of the Lexington and Versailles traction road at Paris was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital here today with both eyes blown out and his face terribly lacerated from a mysterious explosion in the Paris depot yards.

Some one had set fire to a heap of rubbish in the corner of the depot yard and Johnson had approached and was standing by the fire bending over to warm his hands. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion from the burning rubbish which blew out both of his eyes, lacerated his face and hurled him backward to the ground. It is not known what caused the explosion, but it is believed to have been from a stick of dynamite which had been raked up in the rubbish heap. A great hole was torn in the earth where the fire had been, but nobody was hurt except Johnson. He will recover but will be the sight of both eyes.

It would be small wonder indeed if the editor of the Harrodsburg Democrat has not opened up an endless controversy with his readers with the following advanced views on quit a ticklish subject:

Some persons are always worrying about death and the coffin and shroud are constantly before them. But why worry about death if we live sanely? We know that death must come; that it is just as natural as birth, besides being absolutely essential to the enjoyment of higher life.

Why should a funeral procession move slowly and mournfully when the soul of the lump of clay in the hearse is awakening in a place of pure delight.

Our funeral customs are about as senseless as possible, if not positively heathenish. This is generally conceded but the old habits are not easily changed.

In early times the doctor who had assisted the deceased to leave this world walked arm in arm with the preacher, bareheaded and slowly. Doctors don't do that now. If they did they might not have so much time to devote to their live patients. It was the fashion then, and fashion makes a great difference.

An then if religion be true, and our hopes are well grounded, why should we not rejoice when friends are relieved from pain and suffering and given peaceful, joyous rest.

And, if we believe what we preach, and live as well as we know how, why should we fear the grave? It seems as though we ought to welcome it.

The fact of the matter is that no one is afraid to die when the hour of departure has come. Nature provides a most effective anesthetic.

Curt Jett, multi-murderer and known as "the wild dog of the mountains," now doing a lifetime sentence in the penitentiary at Frankfort, says the Lord has pardoned him and he thinks Gov. Willson ought to do likewise. However, as Curt appears to have squared things up for the hereafter and is the best Sunday school teacher in the pen, it looks like he ought to stay there, especially as he is needed by his fellow-convicts and has no firearms there to lead him into temptation.—Elkton Times.

Ten Doctors Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannuated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times said he would die. You advised Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."

MRS. T. S. EDWARDS, Milner, Ga.

This proves what Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy will do. Get a bottle from your druggist and take it according to directions. It does not matter whether your heart is merely weak, or you have organic trouble, if it does not benefit you take the empty bottle to your druggist and get your money back.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated To Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle.

A great helper to gladness is a happy home. Many of us would never be able, day after day, to face life with its struggles, its duties, its antagonisms, were it not for the renewal of strength which we get in our home. A true home is a little fragment of heaven let down on earth to inspire us with patience and strength for the way.

Home is the greatest school of life. Few can receive the honors of a college education, but all are graduates of home. The learning of the university may fade, its knowledge may moulder in the halls of memory, but the simple lessons of home impressed upon the hearts of childhood, defy the rust of years and outline the vivid pictures of life. "Mid pleasures and palaces we may roam. Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

If there is heroism in the field there is equal heroism in many a home which the world knows nothing about, which only angels see. There are fathers who grandly struggle against the tides of fate, and never lap the secret of their despair whose young dreams have all faded, but who patiently bear their allotted burden with what tries to be resignation.

There are women whose domestic afflictions would crush them if they were not heroines, who silently suffer and make the most of their disappointed years. They sing in the minor key, but still they sing, and so the world thinks them happy when they are only brave.

o o o

There are men whose nightly return to their homes always means needless misery to their households. They find fault with their dinners, with their household bills, with the children, and with everything else. They make sarcastic remarks that burden and scarify the sensitive souls of their wives. They carry home the sorries of the business. They "take it out" of their families for everything that has gone wrong in the day's work, and some are cowards enough to revenge upon the innocent and helpless those wrongs and affronts which they have not had courage enough to resist and resent upon the offender.

Where is my boy tonight? You are his father or mother, and if you desire to lay hands upon your boy within five minutes at night, you wouldn't know where to find him. He's on the street somewhere or at the railroad depot jumping on freight trains, but just where, with whom, what engaged, what plotting or what executing for the shrewd ones who plot for him, you could not tell for the life of you. He has a good home and he ought to be there at night. He desires to be some place else with the boys, and you lack the moral courage to insist that he stay where he should be. You hope that he will escape the pitfalls, but you know the chances are against him. Why don't you do the boy the kindness to keep him home at night? The time will come when he will thank you for it or reproach you for not doing it.

One home is like a clean summer evening or a bright, fresh spring morning, because the mistress is full of restful sympathy, or her mind of bright fresh interest in those around her. Another home is a dusty, stormy morning or a fog laden afternoon, when the darkness can be felt, because the woman who makes its atmosphere is capricious, hasty and ill-tempered, or dull and heavy, and careless of the comfort of those who depend upon her, and incapable of putting brightness and warmth into the hearts of those around her because there is none in her own heart. Let those who are step-mothers look to it that they keep their hearts a leisure from themselves to soothe and sympathize, to create a restful atmosphere for those who come in tired and weary from the outside and keep light and brightness alive in their own minds, that they may shed them over everyone who dwells beneath her roof or who sits beside their hearth.

THE OLD WOMAN.

Was it you, young man, we heard using those words when speaking to your mother. "The old woman." A nice phrase to be used about the dear soul who kept her virgin over you in your infancy, kissed away our tears in childhood and remains your trusted friend in maturity. Is this all the love you have for the silver-haired mother who bathed your scorching brow all through the long sleepless nights of affliction, when your brain was wild with burning fever?

ver? Is there no other term you can find for her whose love has followed you through every trial, tribulation and misfortune of your life? Has mother, through all these years of labor, watching and waiting, been wasing her love on a worthless bundle of clay, who in the rosy dawn of manhood has no other term more fitting than the "old woman" by which to address or speak of his mother? Mother, young man, is the sweetest name in all the world and should be held in reverence by every boy. The time is coming when the feeble hands will be folded, her watchful eyes closed and the lips once warm with mother's love be cold, he fond heart whose anxious beatings once followed your wayward feet will be stilled for ever. So while you in tones which seem to her as gentle as the rustle of an angel's wing, call her mother; you will miss her when she's gone. Remember "Mother, I love you."

ALONZO BOWLING.

Frank L. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, broke all American railroad records in an effort to reach the bedside of his dying mother in Chicago, but he lost the race with death by exactly 28 minutes. Mr. Vanderlip, in a special train covered the distance from New York to Englewood, a suburb of Chicago in 15 hours and 14 minutes.

Murmuring a prayer for her soul, Mrs. Mary farmer was led to the electric chair, Auburn prison, shortly after 6 o'clock last Monday morning and executed for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Brennan at Brownville last April.

The execution of Mrs. Farmer—the second infliction of the death penalty on a woman by electrocution in New York—was effected without sensational incident. Five women, two of whom were prison attendants, were witnesses.

"I sometimes think," suavely replied Mr. Cannon, "that perhaps he (Clark) is not as clear to the matter of the difference between the suggestions of that which is error and the letting alone of that which is truth, as he might have been in discussing the public questions touching the revenues."—Mr. Cannon in reply to Champ Clark on the floor of the House.

Which shows that there are more ways than one of calling a man a liar.

The rentals for oil leases in Wayne county is making quite an addition to the per capita circulation. When the leases were given by the land owners a clause in the leases provided that if the operations were not commenced within one year that a certain amount ranging from ten cents to one dollar per acre was to be paid by the lessee each quarter for a period of ten years. Quite a considerable lot of this acreage rental has now become due and is being paid.

Several large coal deals in West Virginia will be closed soon, provided a favorable decision is given on the commodity clause of the Hepburn bill, says a dispatch from Wheeling. It has developed during the past week that several options have been secured and it is known that persons holding these options are friendly with some of the larger railroad companies. It was stated here this morning that at least 2 of these large deals affecting the railroad in this section, depend entirely upon the outcome of the commodity case. Railroad officials state the bill does not prevent railroad companies from operating coal mines to produce for their own use, and for this reason it is believed that these deals will be closed within the next four days, as the railroads are arranging for a future supply of coal. —Wayne News.

Charles Hale of Huntington received a telegram yesterday afternoon to bring his bloodhounds to East Lynn, Wayne county, at once. The message failed to give any explanation as to what had happened that demanded the use of the manhunters, and the supposition was that a murder, robbery or some other aggravated crime had been committed.

An investigation of the matter revealed the fact that some unknown man, who was supposed to be insane, was prowling about through the immense forests of that section, and the natives had become so terrorized that a general demand was being made that he should be captured at all hazards. The report stated that the man had been in the woods for so long that he had torn his clothing until he had almost denuded himself, and that it was impossible to distinguish whether he was a negro or a white man.

LATER—The man has been caught and put in the Wayne jail.

At Barboursville, W. Va., a pistol duel took place between Henry Pinson and Sampson Rayburn. Trouble grew between the two families of the two men for the past month or two over the alleged fact of Pinson's brother being the father of Rayburn's daughter's illegitimate child. Young Pinson, whom it is claimed is the parent of the baby fled the neighborhood sometime ago, and ever since then members of the two families have been on the outs. Last evening about 8 o'clock Rayburn met Pinson in front of a grocery store and after a few words had been exchanged, Rayburn drew a revolver and shot Pinson in the shoulder. Pinson, also having a revolver drew and fired at Rayburn, who by this time was running up the street. It is not known whether his shot had effect, as Rayburn escaped and had not been captured today.

The young mother, daughter of Pinson was committed to an asylum a few days ago, her mind having become unbalanced, it is said, from worrying over her troubles.

In Memory.

Death has again visited our community and removed from the home of Dr. W. A. Rice and wife, their daughter Dora. She was born July 21, 1885, departed this life March 23, 1909, aged 23 years, 8 months and two days. She was converted in January 1902, under the ministry of the writer, and joined the M. E. Church South, but was not baptized until Dec 24, 1908. She was a true christian in every particular. She was always ready to do anything in her power for the cause of the Lord. She was kind to all with whom she met, the poorest little boy or girl found in her a friend. Death always chooses a shining mark. She was one of the purest and brightest girls I ever met. She was loved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

All was done by her parents that could be done to keep her. She was sent to California for her health, but it failed to restore health. After she returned home she saw that she must go. She then selected the 14th chapter of John and 15th verse as the text for her funeral, she also selected the songs that she wanted sung: "Looking This Way," "I shall know Him," "There'll be no death valley," "We'll never say goodbye in heaven." Her request was complied with, and the funeral was preached by the writer and the Rev. H. B. Hulet. After which she was laid to rest on the hill that overlooks their home; to rest until the judgment morning. Dora will be greatly missed by all who knew her, and more especially by her parents and the Sunday school. May God bless the bereaved and may they comply with her request and meet her in heaven. Fallsburg, Ky. R. F. Rice.

These dishes are made of the best iron-stone china, and are not the cheap, chalky kind that break easily. The patterns are pretty and the finish is fine. $12 is less than the wholesale price on some of these sets. If you need a set you'd better get one of this lot, as no more will be obtainable at these prices.

World Brand Silverware

Is Positively the Best on the Market

It comes to us direct from the manufacturers, thus saving the liberal profit allowed to jobbers by other makers. This line includes

Knives, Forks & Spoons

They are guaranteed to contain 50 per cent more silver than the Rogers' ware at the same price. This is possible because the purchaser does not pay a jobber's profit.

There are very few homes that are too poor to afford a set of this tableware for use "when company comes" and every man owes it to his wife to provide it. There is nothing that will bring the same amount of satisfaction for the money. Once in a life time is all you have to buy World Brand Ware.

PLANT WOOD'S SEEDS

For Superior Crops.

Cow Peas

The Best and Surest Cropping of Summer Soil-improving and Forage Crops.

Makes poor land rich; makes rich land more productive, and improves the condition and productivity of soils wherever they are grown.

The crop can be cut for forage, making a large-yielding and most nutritious feed, and the land can be disked afterwards—not plowed—making an ideal fertilization and preparation for wheat and all fall-sown grains. All of our Cow Peas and Soja Beans are reclaimed, free from bugs and immature peas, superior both in cleanliness and quality, and of tested germination.

"I finally tried Peruna and it did wonders for me. In two weeks I was like another person, and in a month I felt better than I ever had before."

"I thank Peruna for new life and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peruna has done for me."

Better Than For Years.

"One of my neighbors had stomach trouble. I recommended Peruna to her, and now she is well and healthy, after having been pronounced hopeless by several physicians."
